[By Associated Press.]
"Trepassey," N. C. 4, May 16.—The navy
drigible C-5, which was swept to sea yesterday, now is believed to have been lost. The destroyer Edwards, which was in pursuit, reported by wireless today that she had been unable to find her and was returning. The merchant steamer which had previously reported that she was standing by the drigible balloon subsequently reported that she was unable to stand by longer and proceeded on her way, according to information from the Edwards.
With the weather along the route to the Azores the best yet reported for the seaplanes N. C. 1, and
N. C. 3 will attempt to start the trans-Atlantic flight at about 3 o'clock this
p. m. Naval authorities here expect the new command, the commander
Announced this morning.

Repair Work Rushed
Meanwhile repairs were being rushed on the N. C. 4 which arrived just evening from the Azores. The repairs are being made by the navy yard commander here. It is not known whether the repairs will be completed
in time for the flight.

Local conditions were favorable today for a start of the projected trans-Atlantic flight of the British airmen
but pending weather reports from mid-Atlantic, Hawker and Raynham withheld a definite decision to take the air.

RAILROAD TRAINMEN
SHY AT DESPONDENCY
FOR HOPE OF WORLD

Columbus, O., Thursday, May 16.—
That the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has "no part or sympathy in any of the plans that pretend the hope of the world is only to be found in despondency" is the organization's reply to a statement that it is
"one hundred percent American" and that it "does not subscribe to any theory that proposes to throw everybody into one common struggle."
The statement was made by the organization's president, who said that the organization's purpose is to bring about a better condition
of affairs for a majority of the people.
The statement was made in a speech given by the president at a meeting of the organization held at the hotel here.

"We do not subscribe to any propaganda that proposes a policy of despondency," he declared.
"We have not lost faith in our government," he said, "and we believe that we have not lost in our keeping the continuity of our common welfare
and we believe that it is not necessary to turn to the government for a government by a few selected persons to decide the destinies of a free-born American people."
The president also said that the organization's purpose is to bring about a better condition of affairs
for a majority of the people.

Sixteen thousand members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen
will be awarded special medals for their service in the war, it is announced by officers of the brotherhood in Triennial convention here today.
The organization's service flag contains
more than 340 gold stars.
The organization, a report shows,
has gained 52,148 members in three years, and in that time has conducted 12 "successful" strikes. It went on to say that the organization's purpose is to bring about a better condition of affairs for a majority of the people.

PEACE
and
WAR

[By Associated Press.]
Owing to the absence of Premier Lloyd-George from Paris, the peace conference Council of Four did not meet today.

The military, naval and aerial terms
of the treaty between the allies and Austria were further discussed yesterday and it is expected the treaty
will be presented about the middle of the week. In the meantime, efforts to reach a settlement of the claims of Italy to territory on the eastern shore of the Adriatic were taken up again
by Premier Clemenceau yesterday with Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy.

Greek troops have been landed at Smyrna, Asia Minor, the operation taking place Wednesday. According to dispatches, an inter-allied demonstration there is to be carried out by French, British and Italian warships and Greek soldiers. The United States warships will be reported to have arrived at Smyrna.

A Finnish army under the leadership of General Mannerheim, the premier, is reported by Copenhagen to be advancing on Petrograd. A dispatch received Thursday stated that the people of Petrograd
had been advised by the soviet government forces at Onega have captured the city. The dispatch also stated that the government departments
would be removed from the former capital
by July 1.

Further south the all-Russian government forces at Onega have captured the city of Samara in the Volga valley while Gen. Denikin has captured Rostov-on-Don, at the head of the sea of Azov.

Most of the German protests against the peace terms are said to impress the allied chiefs as being designed as propaganda. It is pointed out that the German press has been writing
before the German delegation had seen
the text of the document not being quoted.

Brand's request for a part of the German warships which were surrendered to the allies has been refused
by the Council of Four.

JACKSON ST. BRIDGE
WORK BEING RUSHED

Work of the Wausau Iron Works,
building the new bridge at Jackson street has progressed rapidly and the first concrete was placed today. The work today or tomorrow on the north bank for the first abutment. A block of close to 100 pipes to be driven in for the first pier.

The company expects to build a pier
and span every three weeks when once
the work is well in hand. There are five spans in the bridge. The job will easily consume all summer.

CALL FOR BIDS ON HOSPITAL ADDITION

Bids of contractors for the construction of the new addition to Mercy
hospital will be called for next week
by Buckles & Pfeiffer.
The plans for the structure are practically complete. The specifications call for a three-story brick building 45 by 90 feet, to adjoin the present structure on the south end.
No time will be lost in awarding the contract so that work can start immediately. It is the one step the administration has to take before the addition can be occupied by fall.

Shimmy Shook Before
Court to Prove Morality

[By International News.]
Salon, Mass. May 16.—Is it immoral to "shake the shimmy"? Are the devotees of the newest of the new dance dances guilty of an immoral
act when they perform it?
The question was asked today by Judge Rogers, when he asked the question to both questions. Joseph Chouinard, proprietor of a dance hall
at Beverly, says "No."
Judge Rogers, Salem, asked as a court of last resort, the "shimmy" was danced before him in court. The judge will decide whether the "shimmy" is to go down in legal history as a dance which is immoral, or whether it is to be taboo in good society.
Chouinard was arrested at Beverly for conducting an "improper dance
hall."

Peace Steps
By Nations

GERMANY

Paris, May 16.—The German peace treaty, it developed today, contains a clause which has not yet been made public providing that ratification by Germany and three of the principal associated powers will bring the treaty
into force between the ratifying powers enabling the immediate resumption of trade.
As the result of conferences among
the representatives of the powers,
which were being continued today, the text of the German treaty probably will be made public by installments.
It is reported that the financial and boundaries sections of the document
will be released tonight.
It was reported today in connection with the stipulation as to the ratification of the German treaty that any nation which withheld ratification had three of the principal powers had refused to be at a disadvantage in a commercial way. This would follow from the fact that the ratifying
powers would be able to resume trade with Germany at once while the states that delayed would have no
such privilege.

UNITED STATES

Washington, May 16.—Among those prominently mentioned in administration and congressional circles as probable American official representatives
in the governing or directing councils
of the proposed league of nations are Former President William Howard Taft.
Colonel Edward M. House, present
American peace commissioner.
Henry White, present American
peace commissioner.
President A. W. Lawrence Lowell,
of Harvard.
Francis P. Walsh, lawyer and labor leader, late member of the war labor
board.
John Addams, social settlement
worker.
Raymond B. Posdyck, municipal reformer, late chairman of commission
on training camp activities.

ITALY

Paris, May 16.—Negotiations pending for the adjustment of the Adriatic controversy contemplate a direct settlement between Italy and Jugoslavia through American mediation. By this plan the Austrian treaty would not specify the disposition to be made of Balkan or Alpine regions beyond detaching them from Austria.

AUSTRIA

Paris, May 16.—The Council of Foreign Ministers continued work today
on subsidiary details of the Austrian treaty having to do with the new Austrian frontiers. It is considered as unlikely that the treaty will be ready for presentation to the Austrian plenipotentiaries before Wednesday of next week.

TURKEY

Paris, May 16.—It is quite probable that the Turkish and Bulgarian peace
treaties will be negotiated and signed in Constantinople, Saloniki or some other convenient city in the near east,
according to Reuters Paris office.

MADISON STRIKE ENDS
ON WAR BOARD ORDER

Madison, May 16.—Through the efforts of a member of the federal war
labor board, the strike here, which started April 1, involving six industrial plants, was ended at a mass meeting
last night by a vote of 478 to 210.
The agreement was made on no way a compromise on the part of the employers
for they have had no negotiations
with the employees, said Federal Administrator Winter before he left for Washington. "It is a straight application of the war labor board's awards."

HOME CO. HOUSES
GOING UP FAST

Framework of four structures in the Valley View addition of the Janesville Housing Corporation were completed
today and work of cellar excavating
for half a dozen more homes was about ready for the pouring of cement
foundations.
The building has steadily progressed
during the past several days and the

Economists Work
Out Program of Utilization of Land

Washington, May 16.—Economists
connected with universities and agricultural colleges, representatives of farmers' organizations, state commissioners of agriculture and heads of commercial organizations were in conference today at the department of agriculture, to work out a comprehensive program of land utilization.
Among subjects being discussed are better methods of increasing the area of land in farms; more complete utilization of land now in farms;
causes, effects and general significance
of tenancy and policies in use in various countries for improving the economic and legal relationships of farmers to the land they cultivate.

When They Come Home!

Here are some suggestions for the home-folks compiled by a returned member of Company M who reached the city in advance of the boys now at Camp Grant.
Remember that red arrow on the left sleeve stands for the fact they "shot" through every Boche line. It means more to them than any Croix de Guerre.

Here are a few things strictly barred from the family table, once the Company M lad is home—corn-beef, salmon, rice, canned tomatoes and something he calls "shun." Above all things don't mention or ask about "corn-bill" or "goldfish."

Play safe, very safe, and the first meal at home have "ham and eggs."

Don't try and entertain him with the Victrola with the military message that contains the bugle calls of reveille or taps. You might play
"soupe" or mess-call and not have him throw a hob-nail shoe at the music box. A real "hob-nail barrage" is very effective.

If he answers questions in a short, abbreviated manner, using unintelligible codes of initials such as "A. W. O. L.", "out-a luck" or "G. O. O. A. E. F." don't be alarmed. And for Heaven's sake don't ask him to explain what they all mean.

Never mind if he does want to make one grand rush from the O. D.'s or uniform into the good old "civies" for he has been dreaming more than a year just how a blue serge suit will feel and look.

Don't mind if he ducks at sudden and quick noises. For a few days prevent any screeching of whistling noises or a loud discord on the piano. Nor mind very much if he goes to bed smoking a cigarette.

Also "crotches" as a subject is barred. Having been at the front he had them, but lost them in the "milk."

Have a large picture of the Statue of Liberty over the front room mantle or fire place.

COMPANY M AT CAMP GRANT TODAY; AWAITS DISCHARGE

has been told in the Gazette that is the old town going to grow?
Members of the legislators made a visit to all the companies after their arrival here this noon on a special train.

Major Gen. Holbrook, camp commandant and Col. John Turner, addressed the members of the 128th regiment this afternoon. They praised them for their heroic part in the victory over the enemy.

The arrangements made by the welcoming committee earlier in the week will be carried out regardless of the time the men arrive in this city.

If they are not discharged until Sunday or Monday the same signals
will be given and the program prepared for Saturday will be put through.

The time of departure will be flashed to the Gazette office and the factory and church will be notified so that whistles and bells may send the message out over the city. Two hours
will be allowed for the automobiles bearing the boys to reach the city. As soon as they approach the limits a signal will be given and again the whistles and bells will be sounded.

Organizations which will march in the parade as escort will meet at the designated place as soon as possible
after the first signal is given. Plenty of time will be given those residing in the city to reach the downtown section before the parade starts. The Gazette will notify neighboring communities as soon as the start is made from Camp Grant so that those who wish to come to the city will have time to get here.

The parade and speeches will not consume any more time than is necessary so that soldiers from other regiments can be taken in charge by their delegations and accompanied to their homes.

The committee has arranged that all women and girls who wish to carry flowers along the streets as the boys pass will have a place on the curb.

Most of the decorations will be put up tomorrow morning. Chairman Amersforth will supervise the work and will call for volunteers to give him
any aid necessary.

With puffing locomotives elaborately decorated with red arrows and bunting, two special trains from Madison, passed through the city this morning en route to Camp Grant. On board the specials were members of the legislature and representative citizens of Madison as well as friends and relatives of the boys.

All returned Company "M" men will meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock tonight to make arrangements for participating in the parade with their comrades.

zens of Madison as well as friends and relatives of the boys. The first train, the lawmakers' special, bearing 100 people arrived in the city at 9 o'clock over the St. Paul road in a half hour. The second special, made up of B.
P. O. Elks, reached Janesville at 9:20.
A parade down Academy street and back to the depot was staged by 15
members of the Elks and 25 members of the Elks' drill team, all arrayed in white uniforms.
Underneath the head of an elk on the front of the locomotive was pasted
ed, "Welcome, Leg. Terribles—Madison."

Red arrow stickers for use on automobile windshields may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce free of charge.

son B. T. O. Elks No. 410, Engineer
A. M. Rogers was at the throttle.
A score of girls in charge of a large supply of candy for the boys were also on the Elks' special.
A troop train bearing some 200 Fox River valley men of the 32nd division
passed through Janesville at two o'clock
this afternoon over the Northwestern road. They were en route to Camp Grant this morning the veterans were on their way to their homes in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

"Red" Was Blue, Hair and Body, As George Fell

It was a blue world for George Cantwell, residing on Western avenue, for a matter of an hour or more, while the youth was working at the Sam-
son tractor plant yesterday afternoon.
Cantwell was on a platform—about 18 feet above the floor—painting the steel structural work of the assembly
plant. Workmen on the floor below
shoving a tractor along with a pulley
did not observe the youth about the pulley. The platform was a well filled bucket of paint to the floor. He pitched headlong from the plank but
the long fall by grabbing the fender of a tractor. The paint followed and spilled all over Cantwell, smearing his fey red hair a distinct blue.

When workmen rushed up with a stretcher, Cantwell arose with blue paint dripping and after expressing his sentiments took a gasoline bath and went home, although he was willing to resume work. He suffered minor contusions about the head and slight injury to the hip. But for his quickness in grabbing for the tractor
fender breaking the long fall the accident might have been fatal.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
LECTURE IS GIVEN BY
VIRGIL O. STRICKLER

A lecture on "Christian Science" by Virgil O. Strickler, C. S. B., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., was given at the local church last evening.

Mr. Strickler in his lecture said: "As it becomes more generally understood that through the ministry of healing of sickness, sin, unhappiness, worry, fear, and other discordant conditions, there is an ever increasing desire upon the part of the general public to have these results are accomplished. There is no mystery about Christian Science healing, nor is it difficult to understand."

"It is said that there are more than two hundred different kinds of the Christian religion alone, not to mention the hundreds of other forms of religions that are not Christian. In many instances the differences are not in the religion itself, but in the beliefs which his own particular beliefs are true."

Some Believe Untruths.

"As one considers the subject of religion, it becomes plain that most of the people in the world are believing as their religion many things that are not true. Religion consists of spiritual truth, and not of erroneous beliefs; hence it follows that one's religion is limited to the amount of spiritual truth he knows."

"Christian Science aims to destroy erroneous religious beliefs by substituting a knowledge of truth in place thereof, and to destroy out of the human mind all evil qualities by planting good qualities in their stead."

that if everyone would quit sinning there would be no more sin.

"There is no such thing as an angry God waiting to smite you for sin, for God has no knowledge of sin in any form. His law is against sin; yet the punishment for sin is by sin, and when the sin is destroyed and put away out of the human mind, the punishment stops."

"Thus the forgiveness of sin consists in the destruction of sin, and the sin exists nowhere but in the carnal human mind."

Evil Disappears Before Good.

"People ask how God can destroy sin when He knows nothing of sin and does not even know that it exists. He destroys it just as the sun destroys the darkness which it never sees. When the light appears the darkness disappears. Good and evil cannot mingle any more than light and darkness can mingle."

All sin, disease, and death come from the belief of sin, and intelligence, sensation and substance in matter. If it be true, and it now seems to be settled, that there is no life in matter, that it has no sensation or intelligence, and is not substance, then it follows that all material theories concerning disease, and the method of solving all human problems, will have to be changed from a material to a spiritual basis."

"It follows that the correct way to treat disease is not through matter, nor by giving material remedies and drugs to the body, but by destroying the image of disease out of the human mind."

Disease is neither self-created nor was it created by God. It originates in the first instance in the carnal human mind in the form of diseased thought, and is then objectified on the body by the material beliefs of that same carnal mind. The true way to cure it, therefore, is to give to the human mind something that will neutralize and destroy the disease-producing qualities and beliefs. The thing that does this is the Christ-truth.

"Jesus said, 'Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' Christian Science is teaching the human race that the true way to come unto him is to live the life that he lived to manifest the Love that he manifested, and to demonstrate the truth that he taught."

"Every student of religion should begin to give heed to what the Bible teaches concerning the importance of looking to the mental rather than to the physical for deliverance from human discord. We read in Romans 8:5, 7, 'To be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.' Again in Philippians 2:5 it is said, 'Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus,' and in Romans 12:2, 'Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind.'

"These statements leave no room for doubt as to the cause of sin, disease, and death, or their cure."

The command is to get rid of erroneous mental qualities, and to have in us the mind which was also in Christ Jesus. This is the human mind as it is, and the human mind is renewed by the destruction of erroneous and sinful mental qualities.

"Business"*At a Bank

This Bank believes that its continued progress depends on the spirit behind the service it renders to the customer. The officials are "democratic" — their mental attitude is always one of friendliness.

Business relations must have the human touch here or we cannot expect to expand. The First National Bank cordially invites business men seeking a banking connection to call and meet its officers personally.

HEROISM OF BADGER BATTALION GIVEN IN DETAIL BY GENERAL

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE].
Madison, May 16.—With the return of the Wisconsin companies of the Rainbow division to the state today, Gov. Philipp made public the following general order from W. N. Hughes, chief of the general staff, which has just been received here detailing the activities of the division of which Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Appleton had companies.
The order reads:
"As the Rainbow Division has reached the closing days of its military service, the commanding general desires to reiterate in orders the salient features of the service of the 150th machine gun battalion. After a period of intensive training with unaccustomed French material, the 150th machine gun battalion moved to Lorraine, where in the Lunerville sector it had its first front line experience and completed its training with mixed French and American infantry.
"When the 42nd division took over the 16 kilometer Baccarat sector, the battalion, distributed along the front of the 82d brigade, participated with great effect in the defense of the sector for more than 100 days and by its sharp and well directed fire gave fine assistance to the infantry in repelling raids and dispersing enemy demonstrations. From Lorraine the division moved to Champagne, where the 150th machine gun battalion inflicted severe losses upon the enemy and rendered substantial aid in repulsing the offensive of July 16 enduring terrific artillery fire and withstanding repeated determined assaults of the German infantry.
"Immediately upon the completion of this battle the division took part in the great attack above Chateau Thierry, where the battalion manfully did its duty in the long and difficult advance across the Ourcq. Having reached the Bourmont area, where the 42nd division again became necessary at the front and the 150 machine gun battalion advanced over terrain of great difficulty, drove backward a stubborn enemy and gave loyal and efficient co-operation to its infantry throughout the drive toward Sedan.
"Upon the signing of the armistice the battalion took part in the 350 kilometer march through France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany, to form part of the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine."

DEPORTATION BILLS TO COME UP TUESDAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE].
Madison, May 16.—The two resolutions which passed the senate Thursday providing for the deportation of enemy aliens, and war profiteers who refuse to obey orders from the federal war labor board will go on Tuesday's assembly calendar for consideration.
A smile flicked over the faces of some of the assemblymen when that section of the Cunningham resolution was read asking for the deportation of profiteers. The senate resolution condemns efforts to obtain amnesty for prisoners convicted of violating war acts until the wishes of the soldiers are first made known by referendum. The Cunningham resolution asks for the deportation of the following classes of people:
Aliens who renounced intentions of becoming citizens.
Aliens, who, motivated by their declaration of intention, the purpose of such action being to evade military service.
Offenders convicted of lending aid to the enemy or hindering the government in the conduct of the war, and who have been or who will be sentenced.
Aliens interned in this country or in insular possessions.
War profiteers who refused to obey orders of the federal war labor board.

BOLSHEVIKI FLEEING BEFORE UKRAINIANS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS].
Vienna, Thursday, May 15.—Ukrainian reports indicate that the bolsheviks are fleeing from their advanced western positions at Rovno before the army led by Simon Petlura, and are retreating in disorder, due to a lack of transportation, toward Korosteny and Sarny junction.
It appears that there is a general uprising of Ukrainian peasants against the bolsheviks, the town of Homel, in the government of Minsk falling into their hands. The peasants are led by M. Orlovsky and are reported to have won other successes northeast of Kiev.
The army led by Zeleny, another Ukrainian peasant chief, numbers about 20,000 and is operating on both sides of the river near Kiev.

Anti-Bolshevik Fund Needed, Declares Bishop

Knoxville, Tenn., May 16.—"We must face the atmosphere of bolshevism which is fast permeating the whole world; we must have men to meet and combat its forces," says the Right Reverend Bishop Thomas F. Sailer, of the Episcopal diocese of Tennessee, who is conducting a campaign for a $1,000,000 endowment for the University of the South at Sewanee. "We must look to the denunciation of institutions learning for these specially trained men to combat the forces of bolshevism," he added, "and a university which has vindicated its usefulness as has Sewanee is due the support of every citizen of the Southland."

PUBLIC HEALTH IS SAFEGUARDED IN LEGISLATIVE BILLS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE].
Madison, May 16.—The disposition of the present legislature to stamp out the disease of public health, is shown by the record on health bills thus far.
Among the bills either fully enacted or having passed both houses are the following: Making influenza reportable disease; authorizing local health boards to order closed schools, churches, theatres, and public assemblies for the control of epidemics; legalizing delayed vital records; classing chancroid as a venereal disease and prohibiting druggists from prescribing and advertising for cure from circulating; requiring every municipality to establish one or more public comfort stations; creating a department of occupational therapy at county tuberculosis sanatoria; authorizing counties having county sanatoria to provide out-patient departments to encourage follow-up activities; prohibiting use of vehicles for purpose of prostitution (a measure for venereal disease control).
The bill bringing all water and ice supplies and sewerage works under the control of the state board of health passed the lower house, 75 to 0, and will soon be before the senate. The bill requiring all counties to employ a county public health nurse passed the assembly and is before the senate. The bill requiring physical education to be taught in every school district in the state, and placing its supervision under a special division of the state department of public instruction, passed the senate and will be heard before the assembly education committee next.
The bill exempting local health officers from liability for acts performed in pursuit of their official duties was killed—the only health measure of major importance thus far to suffer defeat.

Juror Loses Glass Eye, So Could Not Serve

Boston, May 16.—Martin W. Pinner, a juror in the seventh session of the Superior court, failed to put in an appearance in his jury seat. Finally a telephone message was received from Pinner to the effect that he was hustling about town looking for a new glass eye.
He informed the court officials that while washing his face he dropped his eye in the sink and that it was shattered beyond redemption. He wouldn't appear without an eye for $1,000, he said, but hoped to make good his loss in about an hour.

Underwear Definition Puzzles Tax Experts

Washington, May 16.—For weeks experts of the internal revenue bureau have pondered definitions of underwear and other articles subject to the so-called luxury taxes which went into effect May 1, in preparation for the tax. Finally the experts developed this definition of underwear: any garment worn under the outer dress, such as undershirts, drawers, pants, bloomers, union suits, combination suits, light, corsets, corset covers, brassieres, chemises and vests.
The regulations add that "the list is not to be construed to be exhaustive but merely to give a general notion of the wide variety of articles taxable."
The tax is 10 per cent of the selling price in excess of $5 per garment.

Cow Gets Mad; Kicks Up Gems From Earth

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS].
Lincoln, Neb., May 16.—George S. Christy, representative from Richardson county in the state legislature has a cow that will go down in history—at least in local history—as rivaling the heavy footed mule that is said to have discovered the first valuable diamond mine in South Africa. Christy was driving the cow home one evening when she became unruly and tore up the turf with her hoofs. Christy noticed a bright looking object in the torn up turf beside the cow path, and in upturned it. He found a pure white tourmaline stone.
Investigating further he found more stones, including moonstones and a piece of the largest tourmaline topaz. From the largest tourmaline topaz he had six stones cut valued at $16 each. Geologists say the big glacier which centuries ago covered this part of the country may have brought the broken bits of stones from the North.

A CHANCE TO LIVE

ANOTHER CHANCE TO EARN A PITTANCE.

For the remainder of the day Annie moved about like a person in a trance, going through the motions of her work mechanically, not seeing anything and hearing nothing but the floorwoman's "You'll never do." The losing of the job was terrible enough. But the "you'll never do" seemed a sort of knell in Annie's heart. Her inclination to take with absolute literalness whatever a grown person told her was now leading her into a black pit of despair. She suddenly thought she'd "never do" otherwise she would have given Annie another chance—doomed, her life half-doomed and reform. This was worse than the day long ago when the baby carriage had been stolen in front of Schultz's grocery store. Annie had lost her place then than that of the carriage and the stew meat were gone. The other had been an "act of Providence," like a thunderstorm out of her control. This was her fault. "Don't act like you was going to be moidered."

The speaker was one of Annie's sisters, a girl, and the place was the airless room where the employees ate their lunches and hung their wraps.

"She's an old pig anyway," went on the comforter. "Everybody hates her. Use don't need to worry. This place ain't nuthin' so elegant. Gwan down to Keller's on Grand street. You can get a job there all right. More money. I would think you'd be more up to it. They pay you more money up here. Grand street ain't so swell any more, and it's harder to get girls to work there. The stores is all coming up. Look at Twenty-third street—that's the swell place now. All the girls want to go up there to work. If you want to be sure of a job, you go to Keller's."

Again the magic wand! Again despair vanished and hope came. Annie even had an inspiration on her way home. She decided not to say anything to her mother about the fiasco until she had tried Keller's.

Next morning she went down there, and sure enough they needed girls. They would take her right on. They would pay $2.50 a week. And there was no apron to wash. The girls at Keller's didn't wear aprons. There would be a carriage, though, which would be a daily dine out of the wages.

Except for the fact that Annie contributed 15 cents less each week to the household budget, conditions were better at Keller's. She worked upstairs for one thing, not in the basement, so the air was purer. The floor-walkers at Keller's were men and so harsh with the cash girls as the women at the Fourteenth street place. Annie's breakfast "lasted longer" now that she rode to her work and didn't have the long hard walk. She got to the store feeling fresher. She ate her skimpy luncheon with zest. She enjoyed her supper when she reached home at night because the car ride rested her. Annie liked the girls better, too. Many of them were Jewish girls from the neighborhood.

They brought curious things for lunch—pickled things and smoked things and stuffed things—and Annie shared them. One girl would exchange a plate of "kats" or smoked salmon for half a salty cucumber pickle. Some also offered a "white roll" for a hardish cake studded with fruit nuggets and (To be continued.)

Hungry Salad.—One cup cabbage, chopped fine; one-half cup walnut meat, a little green pepper, a little pimiento, one cup ringlets (boiled), 15 minutes in salt water. Chop egg in all in one package lemon gelatin which has cooled. Let set. Then serve with mayonnaise salad dressing.

Teach Shortcake.—Yolk of one egg, one-half cup of sugar, cream well and then add three tablespoons of shortening, —tablespoons of water, one cup of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt. Beat to thoroughly mix and then bake in well-greased deep layer cake pan in a moderate oven for 20 minutes. Cook and then split an apple with well-drained canned peaches. Place cake together. Now place white of egg and one-half glassful of apple jelly in a bowl; beat with eggbeater until the mixture forms into stiff meringue.

GOOD CAKE RECIPES.—Three-Minute Cake.—Two cups of flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, milk. Mix all dry ingredients. Drop egg in a cup and finish filling the cup with milk. Add dry ingredients. Pour into liquid. Pour into papered pan. Bake 20 minutes.

Five-Minute Cake.—Put flour after in mixing bowl; in it put one cup sugar, and one and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, a pinch of salt; sift all together into the bowl.

In a cup put the white of one egg, enough melted lard or butter to make one-half cup, fill up with milk or water and put into dry ingredients. Beat five minutes and bake in layer or loaf.

If making a layer cake, the yolk can be used for yellow layer with the white one; makes it look very nice. Can use loaves or cakes as liked.

LITTLE POLLY Kambath Process BROOMS

In the old style broom where the broom fibres are wire wound on to the handle, the fibres are strained and bent into shape over the shoulders of the broom. That's why in the old style broom the fibres break at the shoulder.

In the Little Polly there is no strain on the fibres. They are specially selected, then toughened by our exclusive Kambath Process, then built up flat and held in place and securely fastened to the handle with steel clamps, protected by a cover of fibre. But that is not all. In Little Polly Brooms, the tip is full, soft and flexible instead of stubby as in the old style broom. That's why Little Polly Brooms after months of use, wear down evenly without sagging, without running to a point.

You can cut the stitching on a Little Polly and still have a serviceable, long-wearing broom. To get the difference, try this on an old style broom.

THE WISHING PLANE

BY WILLIS WINTER

The next morning Captain Brave and Jack climbed into the airplane again, and Laddie and Jane got into Captain Bold's submarine and they all started for Beautiful Island to visit Dr. Cheer.

They reached there without any more mishaps. And now about Beautiful Island. First of all you must think of all the beautiful flowers you have ever seen, and then you must imagine seeing fields and fields of these flowers on a pretty little island, with a warm sun making everything wonderfully bright and cheery. Then you have Beautiful Island.

Dr. Cheer was a small man with white hair and whiskers, and twinkling eyes that couldn't keep from smiling every time he looked at you. The children fell in love with him in five minutes.

He led them through his flower gardens and told them pretty little stories about each flower, where they came from and how they grew.

When they came to the pansies he showed them the different faces that the lines on the flowers made. Some were sad faces and others were happy ones. The light colored pansies were mostly saucy little faces and the dark violet ones looked, oh, so wistful. He showed them the biggest daisies they had ever seen and told them how some folks believed that the stars in the heavens at night were daisies picked from the fields during the day. The roses looked so proud, and right

The Daily Novelette

AT THE FRONT.

Months had gone by and as yet no word came from home. No word of cheer, of comfort—no packages or boxes of real necessities for they were almost a decadence of much-needed clothing and food. The soldiers were in dire distress. They clattered eagerly around the different scouts as they chug-chugged into the camp. They hoped the boys had not been forgotten by the loved ones at home. These loved ones for whom they were risking their lives.

One long-to-be-remembered and never-to-be-forgotten day, a box arrived.

Last, some had remembered the Kingswater Unit of the Fifty-fourth Regiment of the Forty-ninth Possibilities in the Aerolite Corps on the Banks of Nevermore, Somewhere on Earth.

It was pitiful to note the intensity of the eagerness displayed in the actions of the friends of Nicot Teene, the lucky recipient of the box.

"We'll," yelled Nicot Teene, when he saw it. "Smokes, boys—plenty of them. It's from the old man. Books, magazines, candy, warm clothes—everything a fellow needs. I know it. Wow!" he exulted desperately.

They all crowded around in joyful expectation. Then Nicot Teene opened the box, gave a look and in a minute was carried away on a stretcher.

"Bandages, salve, liniment, an a box on 'How to Be Your Own Surgeon,' 'With Love from Aunt Jane,' and, as you can see, your cakes even sized."

Washing Hint.—Only half fill washing machine. It works twice as well.

THE GREAT SUBJECT OF SAVING

In response to my request for some contributions from my reader friends on the great subject of saving—sub-headings how one can teach oneself to prefer the deferred enjoyments of saving to the present enjoyments of spending; what proportion of an income one ought to save and where one should draw the line between luxuries and helpful advantages, I received so many interesting letters that I can only cut out a few helpful paragraphs. Here are some of them.

"Any man is a Fool Who Doesn't Lay Aside One Dollar in Ten."

"If I had my life to live over again, and I knew what I do now, I should do differently. When I was 20 years of age I should have taken out an endowment policy, then I would have something now. I will say this, that any man is a fool who does not lay aside a dollar out every ten dollars he earns, and then some day he will have something to fall back upon."

"Saving is a habit like everything else and it must be started in early childhood. It is the contribution of another philosopher. Doesn't that recall to your mind another sparkle of the silver lining of war's dark cloud?"

"Put the Luxuries in a Cage." One feature that will enable a person to be wisely economical is to keep books. How can anyone know whether they are doing the right thing or not when they know nothing definite about their expenses? Don't misunderstand me. To keep an accurate record of every penny would be foolish but if you keep an approximate cash account the figures will disclose luxuries at a glance.

"You see, they are one thing today and another tomorrow according to one's changed income. That is true but it is a bad statement for the ordinary person to have in his mind. Place the luxuries in a cage of their own and take out as many as you feel you can stand, but don't get them mixed with the real necessities if you

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 18 and church girl 18. Lately I have been with other girls and only goes with me when there isn't anyone else. This hurts my feeling terribly, as I think a lot of her—more than I do of any besides my father and mother.

She has better clothes than I do and whenever I see anything she has new I feel like I can't cry but cry. I never let her see me cry except the other night. She begged me to tell her what the matter was, but I told her that it was nothing.

I don't know why she doesn't want to go with me as she used to. She always tells me her troubles. Do you think she likes me or just goes with me to fill in when there are no other girls to go with?

DAISY WON'T TELL.—A girl of about your age passes through a period of change. She ceases to be a child and begins to enjoy the pleasures of young womanhood.

Perhaps you are one of the little girls who are proud of a new dress and how she takes pleasure in older girls. This must discourage you, because at the right time you will change, too, and when you see things from the same point of view you will be close friends again.

Let your love for the girl be too great to permit jealousy or envy. The fact that she has pretty clothes should make you happy rather than sad. It is well to remember, too, that although clothes are attractive, everything depends upon the charm of the person who wears them. You can be as well liked even if your clothes are not as pretty as the clothes of your friend.

Do not regard yourself as second choice. Welcome your friend, when she wants you and remember that she tells you her secrets.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

MICAWBERING BAD COLDS.—Mr. Micawber would have made a successful physician. As a doctor he could have called anything the patient complained of a "heavy cold" and then enjoyed himself while waiting for something to turn up.

Dr. Osier wrote, some 12 years ago, that "cold" has been for years regarded as an important causative factor of pneumonia. The frequent occurrence of an initial chill has been one reason for this wide-spread belief.

The frequent occurrence of an initial chill in cases of pneumonia (blood poisoning) from infected wounds has used a similar belief regarding septic infection, by ignorant people.

The frequent occurrence of an initial chill in malaria has been likewise misinterpreted by those who are used to a similar belief regarding septic infection, by ignorant people.

The frequent occurrence of an initial chill in pneumonia has been likewise misinterpreted by those who are used to a similar belief regarding septic infection, by ignorant people.

Dr. Osier also wrote, 12 years ago, that "there can be no question as to the close association of pneumonia with exposure"—and he meant exposure to cold or inclement weather. But that was 12 years ago. There seems to be considerable doubt about it now.

Pneumonia is infectious like diphtheria. It is contracted in precisely the same way. Its seasonal occurrence and geographical distribution are identical with those of diphtheria. Nobody thinks of "exposure" or inclement weather as important factors of diphtheria. By the time the laboratory investigators shall have worked out the task of trying to prove a huge mistake we foresee a great scramble among the medical authorities to revise their chapters on this subject, for the exposure myth is nowaday's ill-fated theory of the Micawbers of Medicine.

MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Lower Ten," etc.
(Copyright—Mary Roberts Rinehart)
CHAPTER IX.

Talbot, running out to the country club that afternoon for his Sunday game of golf, stopped off at the hall. He found Elinor lurching alone in the arbor, which commanded a view of the valley.

"I brought out a letter from Boroday," he said, producing it. "He wrote it yesterday morning, but I did not stop at the Dago's until an hour or so ago."

The Dago was the owner of a gambling-house far downtown—a sort of underworld clearing house. Its safety for Talbot and the others lay in the fact that it drew its clientele from the upper as well as lower walks of life. Huff, acting in his taxicab capacity as stevedore, was able to come and go without suspicion.

Talbot could not read old Hilary's cryptic shorthand. Only three had known it: Boroday, old Hilary himself, and Elinor.

Elinor ran through it while Talbot ate a sandwich. She was rather wild when she looked up.

"It's about the Bryant pearl," she interpreted. "Boroday says that if the chief gets it back he will let him go. The chief's reputation is hanging on it. The Bryants are influential."

She read the last paragraph aloud to him:

"On your lives, boys, do what I tell you. Mail the pearl in a plain box to police headquarters. Mail it downtown in the city. If everything is all right, I'll be able to get out to Woffingham in a week, perhaps less. This will make the church plan unnecessary and relieve Elinor's mind. I see you got the parish house. It was foolhardy and useless."

Talbot rose and stretched himself. "Wonderful day for golf," he said. "Now let's have the pearl and I am off."

Elinor's eyes were pitiful. "Wouldn't any other pearl do?"

He glanced down at her quizzically. "Where's your mind, Elinor? If you lose a dog and want it back, will any other dog do? Why? Do you want the

PETEY DINK—IT'S MR. HIRSUTE'S FIRST CROP, SO TO SPEAK.

ting yourself?"

"I have given it away," said Elinor. Under his golf tan Talbot turned rather gray.

"To whom?"

"The jewels were always mine," protested Elinor, defending herself. "You have always told me that. I thought I had a right."

"To whom?"

"I put it in the aimsbox at Saint Jude's this morning."

"Then it may still be there?"

"I don't know."

"In the name of God!" Talbot broke out. "What possessed you to give the thing away? Whim or no whim, you have no right to risk the rest of us. If that thing is traced back to you, you know what it means."

"Nobody saw me—"

But Talbot was pacing up and down. "There's only one chance," he said. "I'll send a special delivery to the chief, telling him the thing is in the aimsbox. If it's still there, he'll get it and return it. If it's already been discovered, at least he can claim to have known its hiding-place."

Talbot disgustedly relinquished his golf, and in the library of the hall wrote the anonymous letter to the chief. Then, in his gray car, he set off for the city to mail the letter.

When he was in the car, the engine throbbing easily, Elinor ventured to put her hand on his arm.

"Last night," she said rapidly. "Walter threatened all sorts of things; that he would get the morning collection at Saint Jude's, that he would kill Mr. Ward. I am frightened, Talbot."

Talbot patted her hand.

"We will get this fixed up so it won't be necessary; and as for the other, you know Walter. He was mad with jealousy last night. That's all talk."

On that wild ride Talbot had little time to think, but such as they were, his thoughts were of Elinor and her caprice.

"It's the preacher, after all," he said to himself. "It's enough to make old Hilary turn over."

From that his mind wandered to Walter. He knew Huff, the violence of his temper, the madness of his passion for the girl. Talbot was uneasy.

Elinor had an unexpected visitor that afternoon. It was the Bryant woman.

White, but very dignified, Elinor came into the drawing room. But Mrs. Bryant had not come about the pearl.

"You must forgive a Sunday visit," she said. "But I have taken Mr. Bryant to the country club, and I wanted so much to come to see you."

Elinor's color returned.

"It is very kind of you to come."

Mrs. Bryant's small, birdlike eyes darted over the room. The house was distinctly good form. Perhaps the girl might be an acquisition to the social life of the village. After all, religion was becoming very broad. Even the best people—

"The country club," said Mrs. Bryant aloud. "I'm full of disagreeable memories to me just now. It was less than a week ago that I was robbed."

"Ah," said Elinor. "Robbed! How interesting!"

"All my jewels, everything I possessed that was really worth while."

"But surely the police—"

Mrs. Bryant flushed with anger. "The police!" she said. "I wouldn't surprise me at all to discover that the police are in with the thieves. Look at the condition of this country! It has been terror-ridden for the last two or three years. You yourself are a victim. Your poor father!"

Actually she had detested old Hilary. She sat forward on the edge of her chair and spoke with great uncton.

"There is a band of organized, intelligent bandits working in this neighborhood, Miss Kingston, a band of murderers. In these days of feminism, it wouldn't astonish me at all to discover that some woman is at the head of it. The things that have been planned have been so fiendishly clever!"

Mrs. Bryant rose.

"It shows how demoralizing such things are," she said. "I assure you that I never look at a woman's throat these days without expecting to see my pearl."

From that dangerous ground she stepped quickly to the burning of the parish house, which she believed was the work of militant suffragettes.

"The dear rector is not a feminist," she said. "His assistant, I fear, has a strong tendency in that direction. But he is a wonderful person, really. Just imagine, seventy-eight thousand dollars was collected in Saint Jude's church this morning for rebuilding the parish house!"

She turned at the doorway.

"He's single and very attractive, my dear. The entire village is trying to marry him. There is talk of the doctor's daughter, a common little thing."

When she had gone, Elinor, a little faint and dizzy, went out on the terrace. She realized that the barrier between Ward and herself was not only of his faith against her unbelief. There was the insurmountable gulf between his world and her world. She did not fit into his life. Into his arm, perhaps; into his life—never.

Walter would try to get the money. She must get word to him somehow, for if the Bryant pearl was recovered and Boroday given his freedom, money would not be an immediate necessity.

She paced the terrace and tried to think it out. For Talbot to go back to the city, an hour; for the delivery of the special delivery, another hour. Then the police would have to come out by train or motor. With the best of luck, it would be four o'clock before the pearl could be recovered.

There were a dozen possibilities; the chief might be out of town; the pearl might be recovered from the box without his assistance. In that case he would not hold to his agreement with Boroday.

She tried to head Walter off, but she could not locate him. At none of his various haunts could she find him by telephone; he was not at the Dago's; at the taxicab office he was said to be laid off for the day. As the white clouds of the afternoon turned to flame in the sunset, Elinor's face grew set and hard.

"I'm not blind. I'll get him for this."

That was what he had said. He would go after the money that night, and there was murder in his heart.

Old Henriette, watching Elinor's set face, grew, fretful. She squealed in a door slammed; brought food that Elinor could not eat, and finally, dividing, a crisis, tried stealthily by telephone to locate Talbot or Letbridge and failed.

"You'd better eat a bite or two," she entreated.

Elinor's nerves, too, were on edge. "I don't want it," she said.

"Just a little soup!"

"If you bring that tray here again I shall throw it out of the window."

Henriette was cheered. Elinor, white-lipped and speechless, was alarming. Elinor in one of her rare rages was reassuring.

By seven o'clock Elinor knew what she must do; go to Ward, tell him what she feared, and how she knew. She was not craven, but her very soul was sick. She sought about for some way to evade the issue or to postpone it, and finally she struck on one. On plain note paper she scrawled a little note in a feigned hand:

"An attempt will be made tonight to secure the fund raised at the morning service. Be advised and give it to someone else to keep overnight."

But she realized before she had finished it the uselessness of such an attempt. Ward would not transfer a danger.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Dinner Stories

"Now, that strikes me as a silly hat, sister. Why, you can't see where you're going and it doesn't shade the

"Never mind my head or where I'm going. The purpose of a woman's hat is to make men look under it."

Representative Roavis of Nebraska was talking about his trip to the front.

"I witnessed a mild quarrel at the front," he said, "between two young chaplains of different denominations. The senior chaplain got the better of the quarrel."

"Let us bury the hatchet, my brother," he said. "After all we are both doing the Lord's work, are we not?"

"We certainly are," said the junior chaplain, quite disarmed.

"Let us, therefore," said the senior chaplain, "do to the best of our ability you in your way and I in His."

Henry Scholmschmidt, a millionaire of Charleston, was talking about Prussian business. "Their conceit and arrogance are positively ludicrous," he declared. "I remember a Prussian dye sales man who once called on me. He was about seven feet high, and he made the sale. Then he got up and said pompously:

"But, Mr. Scholmschmidt, I will not trespass further on der time of a busy man."

"Not at all," I replied. "I'm not very busy."

"Excuse me," retorted the Prussian. "I was referring to myself."

Portraits of Medal Winners, Made at the Front by Official Portrait Painter of the A. E. F., JOSEPH CUMMINGS CHASE.

Corporal Fred C. Stein, Co. F., 125th Infantry, 32d Division. On his back he carried the well-known heavy pack, and on his chest the bar of the Distinguished Service Cross. In action, near Remagne, Oct. 9th, the men of Corporal Stein's unit found themselves advancing toward a strong enemy machine gun nest that was hurling death at them. The Corporal dashed out ahead of his comrades, across the bullet-swept space that intervened, and captured that machine gun nest with a fury that his pale blue eyes entirely belie. He captured that machine gun nest and immediately turned one of the guns on the enemy. Twice he was wounded while charging the position of the gun, but he continued to operate it against the Boche until he received a third wound in the arm. (Copyright, 1919.)

championship of the world, the match being between Jacob Schaefer, of Chicago, and George Slosson, of New York. The stake was $1,000 and the number of points 1,000. The game was intense, but few expected to see such playing as was shown by Schaefer. Schaefer won the game in three innings, making 5 in the first, 400 in the second, and 805 in the third. His second run was the highest on record. The defeat of Slosson was a crushing one, he making only 44 points in all, his runs being 14, 9 and 21. Slosson is not contented with his defeat and will challenge Schaefer again.

Last evening a score of friends gathered at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. St. John, and indulged in a sheet and pillow case party. The company was not large, but the enjoyment was great, and all who attended were very hospitably entertained, and the occasion will not soon be forgotten.

Every Time He Got Check He Bought a Victory Bond

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS]

Chicago, May 16.—The other morning Albert Stenber bought $5,000 worth of Victory bonds. That afternoon he received a draft for $5,000, the first payment of a legacy from Sweden. He bought another $5,000 lot of bonds.

A week later he received another $5,000 draft from the estate in Sweden. Same bond salesman got the second $5,000. Stenber's bond holdings jumped to $10,000.

Recently another draft of $5,000 arrived—the last of the legacy. Uncle Sam got this $5,000 also.

It is like to have more of both—bonds and drafts," commented Stenber.

BUTTERS AND FLEMING TO BE ON MOUND FOR HAWKS

BY KID BIFF
The Blackhaws will play their first home game of the season with an outside team at the fair grounds on Sunday afternoon when they will look up with the fast Footville White Sox. The game will start at 4 o'clock. There'll be nine innings of ball and maybe more—depends on how things go.

The Hawks are today hoping—some of them are praying—for a bright sunshiny day to help them put the Sox to the white stockinged boys from the little village. The Sox are invading Janesville with one victory over the Hawks to crow about and they are bringing down a gang of sluggers with the idea of knocking Pete Fleming out of the box and incidentally going back to Footville with another victory added to their string.

Fleming is Captain.

To oppose the pale hosed boys, Manager "Skimmer" Doran of the Indian tribe has his usual flock of honest-to-goodness ball players all set for action. By the way, "Skimmer" has just been named manager of the Hawks. Pete Fleming, the smoky slabster, has been appointed captain, while Jimmie McCreary, former manager, is holding down the president's chair. So much for the officers of the club—the other six men are all plain buck privates.

Anticipating a rather tough time of it, Doran sent out an S. O. S. call to "Butty" Butters, the ace of the Hawks, and report at the fair grounds at 2:30 Sunday ready to perform. The old speed demon has sent word from the acres that he will be on the job. It will be the first game of the season for the old boy.

McCreary and Butty With Buttyworth
Butters will hold down the third sack. If the Footville gent gets powerful with his lead, then Butters may be called upon to do mound duty. Fans would delight to see him in action again. They have not seen him pitch since before the war.

McCreary is the president himself—Tim McCreary. The husky little third ward shark issues a guarantee that he will hold up. Fleming is the ace of the Hawks and second is as good as even.

Either Smith or Brodhead or Lentz will be on the mound for Footville with Silverthorn doing the heavy lifting. This is the combination that gave Albany such a severe trimming last Sunday. Other stars on the Footville nine will be Owens at the far corner, and Clark out in right garden.

VETERAN WALKER IN JANESVILLE TODAY

Dan O'Leary, the world's greatest walker, is in Janesville today lining up pedestrians who desire to compete in the Olympic contests in Belgium in 1920. He will be at the Myers hotel this evening, leaving for Rockford tomorrow to walk to Freeport, Sunday, with members of the Wingfoot club of the Forest city.

He is going to walk 100 miles at Oshkosh park, Chicago, July 12 and 13, this year, in celebration of his 73rd birthday. At that time he will stage a 25-mile walking race for amateur and professional walkers. He plans to take the best men with him to the big carnival in Belgium next year.

Dan claims to be a faster walker than Edward Payson Weston, the veteran who holds all records for cross-country performances. He met and defeated Weston in London, 1880 and later outwitted him at San Francisco and Chicago. At London he won a side-bet of 1,000 pounds on his match with Weston.

O'Leary is preparing shoes for long distance hiking, eliminating the spikes, which he says are not necessary. He uses Neolin soles and rubber heels in all his matches.

Joe Benz a By-gone; Sox Release Him to K. C.

Joe Benz, White Sox pitcher for almost seven years, was released last night to the Kansas City Club of the American Association. Hansen, a journeyman who did slab duty for the Fairbanks-Morse team last season, was shipped to Minneapolis, at the same time.

Benz came to the Sox from the "Three-L" League in the fall of 1912. He has turned out some corking good games for the pale hose, but of late has been of little service to the team. The released twirler will leave immediately to join the association club and the Sox, incidentally, are down to the American League player limit.

TOLEDO SANCTIONS BIG BOUT AS CLERGY REGISTER PROTESTS

Toledo, May 15.—Official sanction for the heavyweight championship battle between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey, scheduled to be fought at Bayview park here on July 4, was given by the Toledo boxing commission on Thursday when a permit was issued to Ad Q. Thacker and his brother, representing the Toledo Athletic club.

The permit, calling for the twelve round contest to a decision, bears the signatures of Mayor Schreiber, C. F. Rickard, director of public safety and head of the boxing commission, and the remaining five members. The sanctioning of the bout, which removes all speculation as to what the commission would do in regard to sanctioning the contest.

Construction of the arena, which, according to plans, will have a seating capacity of 50,000 persons, was started on Thursday.

Because he feared tickets might fall into the possession of scalpers, Rickard on Thursday refused a check for $20,000 worth of seats. He declined to reveal the name of the prospective purchaser.

Tex Rickard, promoter of the contest, drove the first half dozen seats to the arena on Thursday. Officials of the Maumee River Yacht club gave Rickard a check for $3,500 which will go for $25 and $10 seats for club members. Sportsman of Columbus, Ohio, also placed an order for 400 seats.

CHURCHES PROTEST TOLEDO BOXING FIGHT

Toledo, May 15.—Protest against the Willard-Dempsey heavyweight championship battle, scheduled to be decided at Bayview park, a municipal owned plot of ground here, July 4, is expected to be in the hands of Gov. James F. Mathias, sheriff of Lucas county today. These officials, together with Mayor Schreiber of Toledo, were requested by the Toledo ministerial union, an organization of 250 churches to prohibit the contest.

The protest, mailed to the state officials and Mayor Schreiber yesterday, characterized the coming battle as a "gladiatorial contest worthy of the Roman arena of infamous memory," declared that it would teach youths to "see red" and would result in an invasion of gamblers and thieves to Toledo.

Mayor Schreiber's answer to the protest was a statement today that the government had made boxing a part of the curriculum in the army and navy and that the battle would bring thousands of visitors to Toledo who will expend hundreds of thousands of dollars.

FARMERS WIN OUT IN MARKETING BILL FIGHT IN ASSEMBLY

(By FRED L. HOLMES)
Madison, May 15.—The marketing bill backed by the farmer members of the assembly was ordered engrossed and passed by the lower house Thursday evening. This bill was substituted in place of the senate bill which passed the upper house nearly three weeks ago. A fight was made to defeat the substitute amendment offered by Assemblyman C. C. Coe of Baraboo, but the move failed by a vote of 23 to 50. The farmer's substitute was then adopted 40 to 33.

The bill as passed is a compromise measure which has been worked out by the farmers and has the support of the Wisconsin Society of Equity. It creates a state board of marketing of seven members appointed by the governor, three from the list of names agricultural societies of the state, two from a list to be furnished by the Wisconsin state federation of labor, and two others, one of whom shall be a clergyman and represent salaried clerical and other workers not otherwise represented.

The commissioner is directed to organize the work of the department; to investigate the question of supply and demand, prevailing prices, cost of production or manufacture, and products in the handling of agricultural food, and such manufactured products as the board may direct. The commission is also directed to gather and disseminate information on markets, domestic and foreign; to promote the organization of public markets; to investigate delays, embargo, and rates and charges in the transportation of agricultural products. The formation of cooperative societies is to be encouraged.

This bill differs materially from the senate bill which passed the upper which has been amended by the substitution of the farmers' bill. The senate bill provided for a market commissioner of agriculture.

The second main figure is that the farmers' bill provides for an investigation of the cost of producing farm products.

The feature speech of the debate was made by Assemblyman Poltz of Waushara county. He said that everything that the farmers wanted was always pointed to as unconstitutional by the lawyers.

Markham moved that the Coe substitute be rejected. This move failed 23 to 50. Donnelly then offered an amendment to have all the members of the board appointed by the Governor, nor regardless of class organization. On motion of Assemblyman Metcalfe it was rejected 40 to 33. The bill was then engrossed by a vote of 55 to 16, and was passed by a vote of 65 to 13, on county but the move failed by a vote of 23 to 50. The farmer's substitute was then adopted 40 to 33.

There will be a further tangle over the market bill in the senate. Senator Skogman has indicated that he will not support the measure as it passed the lower house. The vote on Thursday was the first big winning fight which the farmers acting almost as a unit have put over at this session.
